

The Triple Helix at ASU

is proud to present

David H. Guston

to speak about how nanotechnology, robotics, neurotechnology, and biotechnology will change our lives.

David H. Guston

“Anticipatory Governance of Emerging Technologies: The Center for Nanotechnology in Society at ASU”

David H. Guston is a Professor of Political Science, the Director of the Center for Nanotechnology in Society at ASU, and the Co-Director of the Consortium for Science, Policy & Outcomes.

Thursday, November 4th
5:00 PM – 6:00 PM in DSC 350
Pizza will be provided!